Final - ThematicAnalysis

18	For some minigames, it wasn't immediately clear how to interact and what to do. With a little effort, you'd figure it out anyway. Once I almost got stuck between a bush and a tree, I couldn't get out anymore, LOL. The game provides a lot of information about the lake, flora, and fauna through enjoyable, never tedious, and engaging gameplay.	not clear what to do in minigames, Stuck between bush and tree, good feedback	not clear actions in minigame, stuck between bush and tree, positive feedback	Positive feedback, Got stuck, Not clear actions in minigame
20	Probably a little much of freddoma at the beginning and the goal after the tutorial was not very clear to me	too much freedom, goal after the tutorial not clear	too much freedom at beginning, goal of game not clear	Confusion on the objectives
21	As said before, I accidentally reached the end of the game too early. I would've appreciated a warning that the encountered NPC would have triggered the final questionnaire or a button to go back and resume playing. The visuals and all the game details perfectly convey the Trentino vibes, good job!	can end of the game too early, good feedback	end of the game too in advance, positive feedback	Positive feedback, Unwanted end
22	the final quiz by aguana is too easy to guess without having completed exploration: either lock the quiz until all species have been found, or increase difficulty (less lives and more questions) so that you are forced to explore (and learn) more. I would put a question about each species and decrease a bit the number of lives even if the quiz is locked until all species are found. Also, the reed minigame is too easy and meaningless.	anguana quizz too easy to guess, reed minigame meaningless	anguana quiz too easy to guess, reed minigame too meaningless	Anguana quiz too easy to guess, Reed minigame meaningless
23	I would have liked it, if I could use the keyboard to access the buttons, so I would not have to use the mouse in between. or use the mouse for everything. the game does not really need this split of both. As someone with some concentration problems: The musik is too distracting. I do not mean, that no musik should play. But it should help with concentration and not distract.	use the keyboard too do everything, music too distracting	commands annoying, music distracting	Distracting music, Annoying commands
24	(1) Using the "I" is quite annoying. I need to either move my right hand from mouse to keyboard or move my left hand from the left of keyboard to the right or keyboard. It distract me to focus on the game. (2) The walk around the map is boring and meaningless to me. Unless the game allow me to explore the real environment of the place(Maybe through VR), walking here and there but still can't find the correct place to go is quite annoying. (3) The quiz appear before I finish finding all the animals/plants. After I made some correct guesses the game ended. It would be better if the quiz appear only after the player finish finding everything.	"using ""I"" is distracting ", walk around the map is boring, can end of the game too early	commands annoying, walking is meaningless, game ended too soon	Annoying commands, Unwanted end, Boring exploration
25	This was not very interesting. It lacked meaningful challenges and the information I learnt had nothing to do with the minigames beyond a quiz, which is a boring way to test knowledge and doesn't require the worldmap. Also I spent time wandering around looking for things to interact with and that was boring.	lacked meaningfull challenges, didn't learning anything to do beyond quizzes , boring, walk around the map is boring	boring	Boring exploration, Not challenging, Did not learn
27	Some typos (mostly missing spaces). Character walking just barely into teh corner of an object results in hardstop (would be more comfortable if character slid past). Adding a "quit conversation" button if you want to walka round still or read your journal. Same goes for the final path/exam, it's a very sudden end.	typos, add quit conversation, no hard block on objects	mistakes, object blocks, add quit conversation button	Add quit button, Object blocks, Typos
30	people with low english language proficiency could encounter difficulties in fluently play the game and understand and memorize all passages. The map was very large with few species or interactive elements, so the map might be enriched with more species or interactions, so the player does not risk to lose himself too much. Maybe change the music sometimes, because it is a bit repetitive and tedious: you could use different music for each single minigame. It would be interesting to have, at the end of the game, a sort of glossary/summary of the species in the game.	low english proficency have problems, map very large with few stuff, music too repetitive, end of the game summary of the species	low english proficiency issues, map very large, few interactive elements in map, music repetitive, add a final glossary of species	English difficulties, Big empty map, Music repetitive, Wanted glossary
31	The game of the water plants was impossible to complete, the plants were growing back too fast	lillies too hard	lilies minigame high difficulty	Lilies difficulty
32	I really like the interface of the game, it reminded my the Mario Bros game. There was only one game that i didn't like a lot because i was not able to finish it. I think that the plants were growing too fast.	like interface, lillies too hard	interface liking, lilies minigame high difficulty	Lilies difficulty, Interface liking
33	Just one thing, I ended the game before finding the last species, so maybe one improvement can be that, once at the end, if not all species were found, some feedback or suggestion are given to find what is missing.	can end of the game too early	game ended too soon, missing species feedback at end	Unwanted end, Wanted missing species feedback
34	BUGS: the intial section was a bit clunky. I got stuck in the tutorial (near the lake edge) and had to restart the game. Also even when completing the tutorial it would not let me advance (the game flashed the "Complete the tutorial" message on the ground) until I reopened the Inventory (pressed "I" twice). DESIGN: design-wise the second time I played it (after restarting due to the bug) I accidentally ended the game way too early. I had first discovered the NPC that started the quiz (without discovering any new plants or animals and being able to exit the quiz), which I was able to pass. Then when I tried to explore more to the right I got the final questionnaire without any warning (I had to restart the game again to actually explore the lake and play the minigames). So probably more guidance/ confirmation boxes on this parts are needed. SUGGESTIONS: I really liked the mini games, so it would be interesting to integrate more games to learn about certain species (maybe different minigames to learn different aspects of them).	after finishing tutorial not advance, Glitch in tutorial zone, more minigames for each species, can end of the game too early	bugs in tutorial, end of the game too in advance, integrate more minigames	Glitch in tutorial, Unwanted end, Wanted more minigames
35	The continue button not working sometimes, forcing me to press exit and then continue	continue button bugged sometimes	continue button not working sometimes	Bug in continue button

Player N	post_Game_design_and_AI_AI elements reasons
1	lack of consistent scaling/inconsistent pixelization.	inconsistent resolution
2	wrong position of limbs in the animation, intuition since i use a lot ai a nd i can recognize the style	animation problems, knows AI

18	For some minigames, it wasn't immediately clear how to interact and what to do. With a little effort, you'd figure it out anyway. Once I almost got stuck between a bush and a tree, I couldn't get out anymore, LOL. The game provides a lot of information about the lake, flora, and fauna through enjoyable, never tedious, and engaging gameplay.	not clear what to do in minigames, Stuck between bush and tree, good feedback
20	Probably a little much of freddoma at the beginning and the goal after the tutorial was not very clear to me	too much freedom, goal after the tutorial not clear
21	As said before, I accidentally reached the end of the game too early. I would've appreciated a warning that the encountered NPC would have triggered the final questionnaire or a button to go back and resume playing. The visuals and all the game details perfectly convey the Trentino vibes, good job!	can end of the game too early, good feedback
22	the final quiz by aguana is too easy to guess without having completed exploration: either lock the quiz until all species have been found, or increase difficulty (less lives and more questions) so that you are forced to explore (and learn) more. I would put a question about each species and decrease a bit the number of lives even if the quiz is locked until all species are found. Also, the reed minigame is too easy and meaningless.	anguana quizz too easy to guess, reed minigame meaning less

23	I would have liked it, if I could use the keyboard to access the buttons. so I would not have to use the mouse in between. or use the mouse for everything. the game does not really need this split of both. As someone with some concentration problems: The musik is too distracting. I do not mean, that no musik should play. But it should help with concentration and not distract.	use the keyboard too do everything, music too distracting
24	(1) Using the "i" is quite annoying. I need to either move my right hand from mouse to keyboard or move my left hand from the left of keyboard to the right or keyboard. It distract me to focus on the game. (2) The walk around the map is boring and meaningless to me. Unless the game allow me to explore the real environment of the place(Maybe through VR), walking here and there but still can't find the correct place to go is quite annoying. (3) The quiz appear before I finish finding all the animals/plants. After I made some correct guesses the game ended. It would be better if the quiz appear only after the player finish finding everything.	"using "i" is distracting ", walk around the map is boring, can end of the game too early
25	This was not very interesting. It lacked meaningful challenges and the information I learnt had nothing to do with the minigames beyond a quiz, which is a boring way to test knowledge and doesn't require the worldmap. Also I spent time wandering around looking for things to interact with and that was boring.	lacked meaningfull challenges, didn't learning anything to do beyond quizzes , boring, walk around the map is boring
27	Some typos (mostly missing spaces). Character walking just barely into teh corner of an object results in hardstop (would be more comfortable if character slid past). Adding a "quit conversation" button if you want to walka round still or read your journal. Same goes for the final pathrexam, It's a very sudden end.	typos, add quit conversation, no hard block on objects
30	people with low english language proficiency could encounter difficulties in fluently play the game and understand and memorize all passages. The map was very large with few species or interactive elements, so the map might be enriched with more species or interactions, so the player does not risk to lose himself too much. Maybe change the music sometimes, because it is a bit repetitive and tedious: you could use different music for each single minigame. It would be interesting to have, at the end of the game, a sort of glossary/summary of the species in the game.	low english proficency have problems, map very large with few stuff, music too repetitive, end of the game summary of the species
31	The game of the water plants was impossible to complete, the plants were growing back too fast	lillies too hard
32	I really like the interface of the game, it reminded my the Mario Bros game. There was only one game that i didn't like a lot because i was not able to finish it. I think that the plants were growing too fast.	like interface, lillies too hard
33	Just one thing, I ended the game before finding the last species, so maybe one improvement can be that, once at the end, if not all species were found, some feedback or suggestion are given to find what is missing.	can end of the game too early
34	BUGS: the intial section was a bit clunky. I got stuck in the tutorial (near the lake edge) and had to restart the game. Also even when completing the tutorial it would not let me advance (the game flashed the "Complete the tutorial" message on the ground) untill I reopened the Inventory (pressed 'I' twice). DESIGN: design-wise the second time I played it (after restarting due to the bug) I accidentally ended the game way too early. I had first discovered the NPC that started the quiz (without discovering any new plants or animals and being able to exit the quiz), which I was able to pass. Then when I tried to explore more to the right I got the final questionnaire without any warning (I had to restart the game again to actually explore the lake and play the minigames). So probably more guidance/ confirmation boxes on this parts are needed. SUGGESTIONS: I really liked the mini games, so it would be interesting to integrate more games to learn about certain species (maybe different minigames to learn different aspects of them).	after finishing tutorial not advance, Glitch in tutorial zone, more minigames for each species, can end of the game too early

Player N	post_Game_and_educational_takeaways__Text amount reason
1	it's too much text for a game. the presentation of the information could use some improvements.	too much text, improvements in presentation
2	a little shorter would be better	too much text
6	Presenting the informations in a more interactive way could be much more interesting and help focus the attention. Combining the explanations during the minigames as a tutorial or finding elegant solutions to other explanations like maybe substitute trigger text box with some trail signs or smth.	more interactive information, improve explanations, improvements in presentation
7	Too much text, better shorter explanations. maybe highlight key concepts.	too much text, key concepts highlight
8	I think it was a bit wordy (I would suggest using bolding or underlying to focus the attention of specific information maybe and reducing the essential texts)	too much text, key concepts highlight
10	Too much verbose text in the journal	too much text
11	Some more information during the mini-games or within the game dynamics would help to remember more info. The Journal could be slightly too verbose and detached from the gaming experience.	more information for game dynamics, more information in minigame, journal detached from gaming
12	Text was too long. Acceptable in the minigame phase but in the inventory I would have liked to see bold keywords and better structure of the information like a table. Otherwise it takes too much time to read the wall of text	too much text, key concepts highlight, improvements in presentation, too much time to read
18	Neither too short nor too long.	balanced text
20	Probably a little toot much, some pictures of the species mentioned could have helped	too much text, adding species pictures to text
21	The journal entries were informative but maybe a bit too long. Also, some formatting differentiation (e.g. key words in bold) would've helped reading through it (or at least getting the gist of it)	too much text, key concepts highlight
23	I had to read very much but didn't actually need it until the quiz later. When I entered the quiz, I realized that it would have helped to actually read the journal entries and not only the dialogue. With some questions, I just decided to "wing it", because it was easier than to read that much at once.	journal text helpful for final quiz, too much text
24	The text is too long, make me don't feel like to read and just want to skip	too much text, desire to skip text
26	At some points, there was a lot of text to read from a game perspective	too much text
27	For a serious game i would say appropriate. For an actuall game, the amount of text to gameplay ration is a bit off.	too much text, appropriate text amount for serious game

30	the amount of textual content was appropriate, clear and useful in order to both understand and get useful information on the ecosystem and to correctly play the game parts	appropriate text, clear text, useful text
